Technical Information

- SoftClinic Software is designed in a three-tier structure, which separate the database, business logic and client software.
- SoftClinic uses a Microsoft Access database for all small hospitals and clinics where total number of computers are less than 5. For large clinics and hospital, SoftClinic uses SQL database for maximum performance and unprecedented response times.
- The database, business logic server and client software run on the Windows computers.
- SoftClinic Software at present is designed in Visual Studio Technology. In the latest production versions, the SoftClinic platform is being adapted to the Microsoft .Net Framework. This means that SoftClinic can use all functions in the .Net runtime system class library.
